VAUGHANS CHAPEL.

TO THE BAPTIST CHURCH, MEMPHIS.

Dear Brethren and Sisters:

As your pastor, since your church was organized, I have labored to the best of my ability, to build up your church, and lead the membership in the right ways of the Lord, with what success is known to you. I have tried to so preach and to so act as that the membership might live in the unity of the spirit in bonds of peace, and that each individual member might maintain that spirituality that the Master makes so essential to the success of his cause. And I have felt,

and endeavored to be personally

identified with your every interest,

and have striven to be a part of your every joy and sorrow, and to be as to all things pertaining to your prosperity and growth, not forgetting to mention you always in my daily pleadings with God.

But for a few months past I have felt an increasing conviction of duty to take this step I am now taking,

believing it may therefore be better

for your welfare, and hence my own,

I now offer my resignation as your pastor, to take effect the fourth Sunday in August, 1887. I do this after prayerful consideration, and a careful survey of the situation guided by the best indications I can get. But I do it in love of your greatest good,

as well as for my own welfare, and as I believe, being governed by the will of God.

I shall still labor for your best interests as far as in me lies till the date

above named, as though this action had not been taken, and will give any aid desired, if in my power in securing my successor.

Your unworthy pastor,

J. M. PEAY.

March 20, 1887.

WHEREAS, Our beloved pastor, Rev.

J. M. Peay, D. D. has offered his resignation to take effect the 4th Sunday in Aug. 1887, which time is the expiration of his pastoral year.

Resolved, That the church accept it—though we do so reluctantly and with regret, yielding to his convictions of duty, as expressed in his letter of resignation.

Resolved, That we entertain the highest regard for, and the most friendly relations with our pastor,

and that the best of feeling exist between the pastor and entire membership.

Resolved, That we recommend him

as a true and faithful under-shepherd of the flock, and commend him to the Master, able and earnest in the defense of truth, bold and uncompromising with the advocates of all kinds of folly.

Resolved, That we regard Brother

Peay not only as a man of humble

and consistent piety, but an able, eloquent and logical expounder of "the faith once delivered to the Saint."

Resolved, That we commend him to the tender watch-care of the great

Head of the church, in no wise doubting but that He will call him to a field of wider and more extended usefulness.

Resolved, That these preceding resolutions be spread upon the records of the church—published in the county papers and a copy furnished

A TERRIBLE OFFICIAL.

A Chat with the Chief Executioner of the State of Kentucky.

Facing the potters' houses was a high wall, at whose back and leaning against it were some large crooks, all which had their mouths earthed over except one. Here our guide introduced us to three irascible Chinese whom we noticed gambling at a fan-

tan table near the gate on our arrival.

One, a big, brutish-looking fellow, with a villainous cast in one of his eyes, was the head executioner; the other two,

who were smaller men, were his assistants. Through our guide we told the head executioner that we wished to see the instruments of his calling, and thereon he produced a short, very heavy two-handed sword and a long knife. The following conversation was carried on between us and this

"boss" through the medium of our guide:

"How do you use this sword?"

"Where is the block?" "We don't use a block. What we do is to make the prisoners kneel down in two rows

A southern journal's idea of political economy is to run a campaign without a brass band.

Louisville wants a visit from the President when he goes on his Western tour in September.

The Young Mens Commercial Club, of Louisville, opened its rooms Tuesday evening with addresses and lunch to wind up on.

Perhaps the reason of Boston's cultured people going wild over Queen Kapiolani was because her skin is about the color of baked beans. -Plain Dealer.

The Texas Prohibitionists propose to carry the State by 25,000 majority. Notwithstanding the State has suffered a great deal from droughts, there seems to be a determination to make the whole dry.

"Oh, you cruel thing!" exclaimed a lady to a gentleman as he lifted a poodle over a brook by its tail, while at the same time she swung her little child by one arm. -Commercial.

There is no law against partiality.

An exchange says Sam Jones refused to address a gathering of newspaper men in Boston. There is nothing worthy of comment in this. Mr. Jones' work is confined exclusively to the saving of sinners. -Free Lance.

Six wagon-loads of gambling paraphernalia were burned in the streets of Atlanta Tuesday morning by order of the city authorities. Some of her citizens will probably have to get down to honest labor during the heated term.

The cultivated smile is one of the latest features in Eastern society. It is imported from Kentucky, and has a decidedly Bourbon flavor. -Nashville Union.

If the prohibition movement continues the imported luxuries will grow beautifully less.

The finest summer hotel in New England is being built on Mount Hugging, N. H. It ought to rival Niagara and Mount Vernon as a resort for bridal couples. -Alta California.

Give those who intend to marry a showing at the best room in the house too.

The Peoria Journal sensibly suggests that the chief trouble with journalism in America seems to be that the men who know best how to run a newspaper are engaged in other lines of business—clerking in stores, driving express wagons, or in the embryo state of some of the other professions.

Among the newest Kentucky industries is a natural chicken incubator at Crab Orchard springs. It is so hot there that the eggs are simply left out in the air over night and next morning spring chickens are in abundance. -Commercial.

The kind "now you see 'em, and now you don't see 'em," especially when you get to the table.

The following from the Abilene Reflector shows that he is well up in some things:
An observer says a woman can read deception in a man's eye, even in the dark. Of course she can. That explains why he turns his face to the wall upon retiring after an unusually long session of his lodge.

The wheat clique which has been gradually cornering the market in Chicago for some weeks past came to a sudden and unexpected collapse Tuesday, and as a result a panic ensued, which affected all the grain centers of the country. The market was "bullied" until prices reached 93 1/2 cents. Then came the reaction. Early in the day rumors were circulated that Cincinnati banks, which were supposed to be putting up money for the combination, were getting short. These rumors were freely circulated in the pit, and a panic resulted. Prices started down, and struck the bottom—72 1/2 cents—with a thump. The clique went wild, and failures began to be announced. Three Chicago firms went under, while others were on the ragged edge. Failures were also announced at Milwaukee and other points. At New York the market was a reflex of Chicago. -Courier-Journal.

The following is the Chicago New's idea of an imposition on the traveling public:

The American people do not take kindly to tips. They are willing to pay handsomely and liberally for any service, but to be obliged to pay as a reward for civilities a portion of the salary of the person who renders them is always regarded as an imposition and an outrage.

The discussion regarding the receipts of sleeping-car conductors shows that the companies running the cars take this advantage of the generosity of the traveling public by which the salaries of their porters are paid. A porter receives $15 a month—not enough to pay for their berths, pay enough to cover all that a porter could be reasonably asked by the passenger to do. On a trip to New York a passenger will pay the porter twenty minutes service than the company does for his whole time in the care of its property.

Such an obligation the company has no right to impose. It is unjust to the passengers and it is contemptible to the porters, who are under east-iron rules regulating their service to the company. The duties of the porter are clearly defined, and if he is asked by a passenger to do something not obligatory on him, the passenger should pay him. But for the passenger to be asked to pay 50 cents for blacking his boots, in order that 45 cents of it may pay the porter for taking care of the company's dirty linen at the end of the route, can be defended on no principle of honesty or decency. It is wholly wrong and iniquitous and should be stopped.

It is held by some church historians that the origin of celibacy among the Catholic priesthood is to be found in the rule which required the sacrifice at any moment of security, settled habits and life itself by the clergy in the cause of humanity. In the early days of the church a priest was expected and required to go out among the sick and dying, where cholera, smallpox, the black plague and other contagious diseases raged. This wise and thoughtful men who guided the destinies of the church rightly considered it better that men who were exposed to such deadly dangers should not leave families, and the measure of prudence thus adopted grew into the rule prohibiting the marriage of priests, which has since prevailed. As the causes which originally gave meaning and force to the regulation have passed away with the spread of modern civilization, it may be that the Pope is really contemplating the abolition of this requirement. The duties of the modern priest do not call for the exercise of this practice with the same urgency as formerly, and married priests may be one of the novel, but natural, incidents of the near future. -Louisville Times.

A circular issued from the office of the G. P. A. of the L. & N. says: Mr. John H. Milliken has this day been appointed District Passenger Agent of this Company; he will have immediate supervision of passenger business in the city of Louisville and the territory South, West and East, there of, embracing Frankfort, Shelbyville, Jellico, Columbia, Tenn., Clarksville, Tenn., and Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. Milliken's many friends in this section gladly receive the news that he is going up the ladder of promotion at such a rapid rate, and trust that as time moves gradually along, round after round may be passed until he reaches the top.

The Hall & Ordway Manufacturing Company, of Nashville, Tenn., boots and shoes, failed Tuesday, owing to heavy losses in their business. The firm liabilities amount to $160,000, and individual liabilities to $46,000. Total assets $200,000. This is the only shoe manufactory in the South, and was believed to be doing a good business.

At a meeting of wholesale liquor dealers held in Louisville Monday, the action of the Manufacturers' Association in deciding to shut down for one year was indorsed, and a resolution passed agreeing not to purchase any whisky distilled during the period of suspension. Thus the stillness of the still will not be disturbed.

Hon. Jno. Feland Withdraws.

The withdrawal of Mr. Feland from the race of Attorney General on the Republican ticket is somewhat of a surprise. Mr. Feland's reasons are, first: That the canvass will necessarily demand his attention during July court, and second, the main reason is, the position of the party on the Labor question in Kentucky. As Mr. Feland introduced a bill into the Senate favoring the working of convicts in mines, which he still endorses he can not join hands with others on the ticket, who oppose the opinions he advocated. Mr. Feland added great strength to the ticket, and his place will not be easily filled.

"Imitation is the Sincerest Flattery"

If the above quotation is true, then Dr. R. V. Pierce ought to feel highly flattered, on account of the many imitators of his popular remedy, the "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," for they have scores of imitators, but never an equal, for the cure of sick and bilious headache, constipation, impure blood, kidney pains, internal fever and all bowel complaints. With a bottle of the sugared granules in the house, you can dispense with the family doctor and his often nauseous medicines.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Pennsylvania Republican convention will probably be held in Harrisburg August 17.

Congressman Merrimen finds a very bitter fight progressing between the Blaine and Sherman factions in New York.

There have been two new cases of yellow fever, at Key West, Fla., since Sunday, and one patient has been discharged from the hospital.

The features of the annual meeting of the American Paper Manufacturers' association at Saratoga July 27, will be an address by Senator Dawes on the tariff.

There is a disagreement between the Republican senate and the Democratic house of the Rhode Island legislature as to when a constitutional convention should be held.

The prohibitionists propose to spend $30,000 in this year's campaign in the state of New York. Added to what the brewers and liquor dealers will contribute, that sum ought to enliven the proceedings appreciably.

Ex-Senator Mahone and family have returned from California, and after spending a few days in Washington, will go to their handsome residence in Petersburg, Va., for a fortnight before sailing for Europe, where they will spend two years.

The title of the United States to the site of the Fort Bliss military post at El Paso, Tex., having been rectified and established in accordance with the act of congress the war department has made public the corrected boundaries of the reservation according to the survey made January 1887.

Gath quotes an ex-cabinet officer as saying: "Bob Lincoln is a great deal more of a man than he gets credit for among politicians, but I sincerely believe that he is the only man in this country to whom the presidential nomination would come without any satisfaction. I believe that he would decline it."

The president of the Lincoln club, the leading Republican organization of Cincinnati, says that Sherman "needs opposition" in order "to arouse the interest necessary to his success." As to the opposition, it looks as though he could be accommodated, but whether it will arouse interest in him remains to be seen.

Mr. and Miss Bancroft leave Tuesday next for Newport, where they will remain until fall. During the past month Mr. Bancroft could be seen every pleasant day making equestrian trips in the country. Mr. Bancroft sits his horse as steadily as any young man would, and is always accompanied by his valet whose services, however, have never been needed.

John Sherman saved the tariff limb on which he had been perched close off at the trunk when he confessed that the tariff laws could not control the price of labor or of anything else. It has been the staple argument of the protectionist that the tariff maintains the wages of labor, and that it alone prevents American workmen from descending to the level of the pauper laborers of Europe. But John Sherman takes the chief prop away when he admits that the tariff controls the prices of anything, and that wages of labor, with all other prices, are regulated by the laws of supply and demand.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

[By Glover & Durrett.]

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3622 hhds. with receipts of 3874 hhds. for the same period. Sales on our market since January 1, amount to 57,516 hhds. Outside speculators have not been quite so strong this week on our market and especially so on common tobacco. In the past 10 days the planting seasons have been quite general and it is estimated that 3/4 of the intended crop is now on the hill in favorable condition. The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco:

Common to medium lugs $2 25 to 3 00.
Good lugs, $3 00 to 3 75.
Common to medium leaf, $3 00 to 5 00.
Good to fine leaf $4 50 to 7 00.
Leaf of extra length, $5 00 to 7 00.
Wrappery leaf, $7 00 to 12 00.

Have taken Hall's Catarrh Cure. Had catarrh all my life; am 48 years old. Had asthma 19 years, and a dreadful cough for five years. Have taken everything; went to the Hot Springs; I have doctored with the doctors here; I have done nothing but take medicine for 19 years. When I commenced using Hall's Catarrh Cure I was almost dead. I sent for the doctor the day I got Hall's Catarrh Cure, and he told me that I would die any way and that I would try your medicine. I was very bad. How I suffered for 9 years! I could hardly breathe at times. I saw Hall's Catarrh Cure advertised in the papers and commenced taking it. I would have been under the ground to-day if it had not been for that. I have not had one bad spell of coughing since. In breathing my head feels well and I am well. It has done me a thousand dollars worth of good. There are ten of my friends, on seeing what I had done for me, taking it, and it is helping them. I only wish that every one who has catarrh, asthma and a bad cough could see me, so that I could tell them all to take it. All that know me here know how I have suffered. (I have been here since 1858), and say to me that "I am so glad you found something that could cure you." Everyone says, "how much better you look." The doctors say they are glad I found Hall's Catarrh Cure as they could not cure me. I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good Hall's Catarrh Cure has done me. You can use as much of this letter as will do the afflicted good. Publish it to the whole world—it is all true and they should know it. JOSEPHINE CHURMAN.

En-Route to Frankfort.

Sheriff of Trigg county, J. W. McKinney, and Blake Baker, one of his deputies, passed through the city Wednesday, en route to Frankfort, having in charge William Tompkins who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life last Thursday for the murder of Samuel Purdy near Corleau Springs in April last.

Tompkins claims to be entirely innocent of the crime for which he has to suffer, and says the verdict was a surprise to him as well as all his friends. That it is a persecution and the day will come when the matter will be cleared up and the real guilty party known to the world.

He is twenty-six years old, six feet high and weighs one hundred and ninety pounds. He is a widower and has one child—a boy eight years old living in Gibson county, Tenn., where Tompkins was raised. He claims to entertain no ill-feeling to anyone, and was quite cheerful while conversing, and talked freely to all who asked him any questions.

A history of the murder was given in this paper shortly after it occurred.

No Fair this Fall.

On account of the difference of opinion as to the best mode of action necessary to guarantee a Fair this fall, and the heavy expense needed to repair the grounds, all hope has about faded away and all interest in the Fair Company has abated. At a meeting of the stockholders Saturday, the president, Mr. G. V. Green, resigned, as did also five directors. As it is now getting late there is not much probability that new directors will be elected and no Fair may be looked forward to this fall. The meetings of the Company have always been looked upon as annual reunions for friends of this and adjoining counties, and it is with regret that we see it sink. But as the new Driving Park Co., is now making preparation for a grand meeting this fall, probably it may save the same purpose, only give the people the benefit of some fine racing.
